A FORMAL CONVENTION GESTURE

It has been ordained that some day early in July the Zionists of Canada will stage one of their periodical pantomime affairs known as a "Zionist Convention." This year the performance will take place in Winnipeg. Several of the leading officers and officials from the east will embark on the long journey to meet a group of delightful hosts in the west, to exchange amenities and elect officers, thereby pleasing the constitution.

The world Zionist organization is now passing through a period of grave anxiety. The situation in Palestine is critical. There is no use blinking at the grim facts. The leaders are almost in despair. The Jews are not doing enough. Great Britain is indifferent. The grand experiment is in jeopardy. The Congress which is shortly to convene will have to deal with some very fundamental problems. The very constitution and format of the Zionist Organization and the lines of work in Palestine will be subjected to close scrutiny. Something must be done to rally the forces of Jewdom to awaken them to the task before them. And the administration and the opposition are giving the problems serious thought. They are alive to the decisiveness of the moment.

Within the next two or three weeks the American Zionists will hold their annual Convention. The American Organization is not in a sound state. The difficulties of the general situation are reacting on the condition in America. And besides, there are serious local complications. The leadership has not been satisfactory. Rumblings of discontent are heard in various quarters. The Convention will be called upon to make some important decisions affecting both the policy and the personnel of the administration. The feeling is prevalent that in the face of the challenging danger American Zionists dare not sit with folded arms and let things run their course.

And Canadian Zionists will have a handful of vacationists take a jaunt to Winnipeg to see the west, and keep their record for uninterrupted attendance intact. Of course there will be present a large delegation from the middle west, eager, enthusiastic. But its very numbers, compared with the necessary paucity of the eastern representation will unbalance the convention.

What can be expected of this perfunctory Convention?

The chief idea in sending the Convention to the door of the western Jews was to compliment the latter by affording them an opportunity to practice hospitality. The Jewish population of the entire west is not as large as that of Toronto alone. It is scattered. The Jews of the Pacific seaboard feel as distant and isolated from their fellows in the middle west as they do from the Jews farther east. There will be present a preponderance of representatives from Winnipeg and nearby settlements, a negligible number from the large eastern centres, and an insignificant quota from the extreme west. A considerable proportion of the delegation will be attending a convention for the first time. They will be inexperienced and naturally reticent. The time will be passed in the exchange of courtesies and the exercise of good-fellowship.

In former years it was a good practice of the administration

CHARLES A. LEVINE

BY RABBI FERDINAND M. ISSERMAN

Those of us who had followed with keen interest the preparations for the New York to Paris flight made by several groups of aviators, were considerably perturbed when reading that the Columbia, owned by Charles A. Levine, a Jew, had been prevented from attempting a flight because of financial difficulties between the owner and his pilots. Especially were we disturbed because the world is always anxious to point to the materialism of the Jew. We were considerably annoyed with Levine. Levine himself did not state his case. He allowed the newspapers to carry their unsavoury reports about him without making any attempt to explain his conduct. Levine appeared as the avaricious Croesus—worth millions and yet avid for more.

But how vindicated he stands to-day! This wealthy young Jew, who had all the material things that life had to offer, beautiful and regal homes, luxuries, a fine family circle, a large income and vast wealth, risked his life in a trans-Atlantic flight and became immortal as the first trans-Atlantic air passenger. Materially Levine had nothing to gain from his flight and his life to lose. His pilot, Clarence D. Chamberlain, was a poor man and if successful had much to gain, wealth, reputation and recognition. Not so Levine. He showed himself to be a good sport, possessed of heroism and courage. He jeopardized all he had to venture on his epoch-making flight. Lindbergh, it is now reported, asked Levine for the use of the Columbia for his flight. Levine agreed on one condition—if Lindbergh would take him as passenger. Levine the materialist turns out to be Levine the heroic idealist. All hail to him! The first trans-Atlantic air passenger—the first Jew to gain immortality in aviation.

A BOARD OF GOOD WILL

A newspaper brought the information that Rev. Dr. Richard Roberts of the Sherbourne Street United Church, Toronto, urged the appointment of a board of good will. He told his congregation that there were boards of all kinds, boards of health and education and a variety of things, but that he hoped that this city could have a board of good will composed of peoples of all classes and creeds with the avowed purpose of bringing people together and wiping out strife and bitterness and misunderstanding. Those are the sort of sentiments we love to reiterate and we expect to hear from pulpits where religion is taught. Dr. Roberts has been in Toronto but a short time and already he has been able to see the bitterness of man against man which exists in our city. There is an undercurrent of hostility against Jews, potent even among the pupils of the high schools, who have inherited the prejudices from their ancestors. There is an open hostility against Catholics. There is a patronising and sneering at foreigners. All of these manifestations are irreligious. "If we have not a place for our brothers in our hearts, we cannot have the love of God in us," said Dr. Roberts. Surely wherever there is hatred or contempt for one's neighbour, whether it be that

SHEHITAH PROHIBITION IN NORWAY

The Norwegian Government has not as yet provided for the carrying out of the prohibition against Shehitah, even though the Parliament approved of the bill. It is hoped that the Government may still cause a change in the law so as to make it possible for Jews to observe their dietary laws.

The second chamber of the Swedish Government decided, by a large majority, in favor of the prohibition against Shehitah and has rejected the bill passed in the lower chamber under which the Government was given a free hand on the question. It is suspected that this action will force the prohibition of Shehitah in Sweden.

"Sometimes when people censure me,
I tell them without rancour
That for what it cost me to be free
I might have had an anchor."

The following letter has been received by Edmund Scheuer, of Toronto, from "a few Canadian Jewish girls":

"On behalf of a few Canadian Jewish business girls, will you be good enough to accept this small contribution of $25 for the orphans who are coming to make their new home in Canada? We realize that this is a mere pittance in comparison with the amount which you need, but since our hearts are so very much bigger than our pockets, we hope that our sincere good wishes will make up to an extent for the smallness of our contribution. We do hope that others who have felt as we have, will realize that the bucket is not yet full, and will send in their little drops. We are very grateful that we have the good fortune of living under a flag and being part of a country whose principles and ideals are so fine. We will do our utmost to bring cheer and comfort to our less fortunate sisters and brothers, whose lives have been so darkened and who are coming to Canada full of hope and energy and who will be an asset to us. May we assure you of our readiness to assist at any time in making the new life of these boys and girls a much brighter, happier one than they have had."

This letter is printed to illustrate the simplicity and earnestness of a communication written from the heart out. It could be given greater weight if alongside it could be printed the thousands of letters that have been received by the REVIEW during its existence and written in bombast and fancy language. Many a letter might have been published in the REVIEW, as intended by the writer, if it had not been much too big for the real load it carried. Many a letter, saying nothing, takes two or three pages to say it. Most of those from zealous champions of good causes spoil the chance to air views by coming in heavy with pat, Rotarian, standardized phrases that mean nothing when analyzed and can be called nothing better than bunk. This world of speeches and letters is full of time-eating, mouth-filling, ear-crowding phrases manufactured for election meetings, installations, annual luncheons and sudden deaths. This column is the sworn enemy of them every time. But the above letter shows how restful it all can sound when said without flowers.

Once upon a time a certain Canadian Jewish synagogue of means and a fairly distinguished membership contracted for $50 worth of advertising in this here JEWISH REVIEW paper and got it. Time, quite a bit of it, elapsed and no pay. The synagogue was notified and a few of the brainier of the fairly distinguished membership came to the REVIEW office to negotiate, to do business, that is. They would settle for $25. The REVIEW representative refused to compromise and showed the delegation the door several times within quite a short while. They went away and came back and offered $30. But $30 is not $50 and the REVIEW office remained firm and finally offered to sue the congregation. Now, it is one thing to be undignified before a single person and another to be undignified in public, but the delegation put up stiff remonstrance. Gewalt! A Jewish paper to stick to one price and mean what it says. Gewalt! A Jewish person to be so hard-hearted toward a synagogue. Gewalt, gewalt! Just the same, the debt is being paid in full as per first agreement. There is a moral to this story. More than one.

A list of "100 representative Jewish books" has been received from the Bloch Publishing Company of New York, that very-disinterested-personally enthusiast for Jewish Book Week. The books range in price from 35 cents to $7.50 each, a mere bagatelle. As the Bloch Publishing Company so naively says, "This list is its contribution to Jewish Book Week." Or is it nerve? f.f.c.

"We decreed a holiday"

When we inaugurated our super-speed 24-hour family wash service we virtually presented each Toronto housewife with one extra day each week, because that is just what it amounts to. Our return was immediate in the shape of such an increased volume of business that we were compelled to double the size of our premises. In addition to super-speed we have other services — all for family wash — one of which must surely meet your household requirements and also your household budget limitations. We'd be glad to explain. Phone to-day.

Viscount Allenby unveiled the Memorial in the War Cemetery on Mount Scopus in Jerusalem, to the memory of those who fell in the Palestine campaign. In his address Lord Allenby said that the men who lay buried there fought not only for home and country, but for an ideal. Palestine had been fought over more than any country in history, but he hoped that it had now been fought over for the last time. A touching message from Dr. Weizmann in behalf of the Zionist Organization was read during the ceremonies.

The following information is supplied by Mr. Benjamin Sobie, President of The Sobie Silk Shops Limited:

BUSINESS AND HISTORY: The Sobie Silk Shops Limited, incorporated under Dominion Charter, is acquiring all the undertakings, property and assets of Sobie Silk Shops Limited. The Company operates a chain of stores from Montreal to Vancouver, including Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver, dealing exclusively in ladies' tailored undergarments, lingerie and hosiery. Undergarments are manufactured in the company's own plant at Montreal. Hosiery is purchased on favorable terms direct from the makers. The stores are all leased and carry uniform equipment of standard design, which permits the opening of new stores with a minimum of capital expenditure.

The business had its inception in Montreal in 1917 with only one store and has grown into one of the largest retail businesses of its kind in the Dominion. This growth has been accomplished largely through the reinvestment of accumulated earnings. The business is conducted on a strictly cash basis, thus eliminating losses from bad debts and the tie-up of capital in bills receivable.

EARNINGS AND SALES: The enterprise has shown a profit every year since its inception. Earnings, as certified by Auditors, after making ample allowance for depreciation, for the past year and seven months were as follows:

Year ending May 1st, 1926	$27,571.47
Seven months ending Dec. 31st, 1926	18,642.95
Preferred Dividend requirements on present capitalization for full year	15,750.00

While these earnings are sufficient to cover full dividend requirements on the new Preferred stock by a comfortable margin and leave a surplus for the Common, they do not reflect the new capital going into the business. When this capital is fully employed, Mr. Sobie estimates that earnings after depreciation and taxes will be not less than $85,000 per annum, which would be at the rate of 87% on the Preferred Stock and equal to $5.06 per share on the No Par Value Common Stock after paying Preferred Stock dividends.

Sales for the four years ending December 31st were approximately as follows:

1923	1924	1925	1926
$75,127	$116,388	$206,091.14	$296,299.37

EXPANSION: The proceeds of this issue will be used mainly for the opening of new stores in cities not already served by the Company, and to a minor extent for working capital.

PREFERRED SHARES: The Preferred Shares carry equal voting rights with the Common and are cumulative, but non-participating. Further Preferred Stock, in addition to that now authorized, ranking in priority on a parity with this issue shall not be created except with the consent of at least 75% of the Preferred Stock outstanding at the time of such proposed new issue.

These shares are offered when, as, and if issued, and received by us subject to approval of counsel, Messrs. Foster, Mann, Place, MacInnon, Hackett and Mulvena.

Price $25 a Share and accrued dividends from June 1st with a bonus of one-half share Common Stock with each share of Preferred.

Fractional shares of no par Common Stock will be adjusted at $10 a share. The first dividend on the Preferred Stock will be payable on January 1, 1928, for the seven months ending on that date.

SOBIE SILK SHOP OFFER PREFERRED STOCK TO PUBLIC

Public offering of 5,000 shares of 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock of the Sobie Silk Shops, Limited, a chain of lingerie and hosiery stores, is announced to-day by Johnston and Ward, Montreal. The stock is being offered at its par value of $25, each share of preferred carrying with it a bonus of one-half a share of no par common stock.

The company operates the only system of chain stores in Canada exclusively selling hosiery, lingerie and boudoir accessories. At the present time stores are being operated in Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver. The proceeds of the present issue will be used largely for the opening of new stores and for working capital.

The company occupies a unique position in that all of the lingerie and most of the accessories sold in its stores are made in its own workrooms. The entire manufacturing facilities of the company are used for the production of merchandise for sale over the counters of the company's stores only. Hosiery is purchased direct from various manufacturers on very advantageous terms.

Hosiery and lingerie counters in connection with existing shops of outside ownership are operated in Belleville and Kingston.

The company had its inception in one small store in Montreal in 1917. It is now the largest retail establishment in its line in the Dominion, and possibly in America. A total of thirteen stores and two counters is operated, and it is expected that this number will be increased, possibly by ten more, before the end of the present year.

The growth of the company is indicated in the earnings of the past four years:

1923	$75,137 00
1924	116,388 00
1925	206,091 14
1926	396,299 37

Present earnings are sufficient to cover full dividend requirements on the present issue of preferred stock by a good margin and leave a surplus for the common. When the proceeds of the present issue are fully employed it is estimated by company officials that, after depreciation and taxes, earnings will be not less than $85,000 a year, which would be at the rate of 3? per cent. a year on the preferred stock and equal to $5 a share on the no par value common after paying preferred stock dividends.

The preferred, which is cumulative but not participating, is redeemable in whole or in part at the option of the company on any dividend date at 105 per cent. of par and accumulated dividends.

Neither a large building nor a black cowl, nor a pompous voice nor a bearded countenance signify God's presence. Where man loves his fellow-men there God exists. Religion's weakness has been that too often the institutions created to house its spirit have become its sepulchres.

We are with Dr. Roberts in his board of good will. We hope he will not only suggest its formation, but will also take steps to create it. Of the hearty co-operation of the Jews, we can assure him. Such a board, we believe, could do effective work.

to send [illegible] in advance of the con[illegible] invite resolutions and sug[illegible] interest in the conclaves [illegible] in good time, and the dele[illegible] afforded some opportunity of [illegible] themselves in the questions [illegible] would have to consider. The conventions proper were allowed a reasonable allotment of time to deal with its problems. Latterly, however, the duration of the conventions has been shortened. And this year with the Convention only some three weeks off, there is scarcely a ripple of interest manifested even among the circles of the more ardent devotees. Headquarters pursues the even tenor of its course without any attempt to create the atmosphere of thrilling expectancy which is necessary to make a convention interesting and constructive. It acts as if it assumed that everything is serene in Canadian Zionism and the convention will be merely a graceful gesture.

Zionism in Canada is in no happier position than Zionism in America, or in Palestine. Canadian Zionists should not remain in a state of blissful insulation, unconcerned with the doings in the large Zionist world. And it is time they realized that Zionism in Canada needs to check up on its ideas and methods and work out a fresh orientation.

This year Canadian Zionism should have held a convention in the east where a more adequate representation from the various centres in the east would be possible. And the leaders should have gone to some pains to render available a comprehensive survey of the main problems in Zionism so that the convention might be able to deal with them in an intelligent and constructive manner. The cynical dismissal of conventions as formal nuisances that must be tolerated is the product of an unhealthy attitude. The time and the place and the manner of going about the whole thing give colour to the augury of a fat and uneventful convention at a moment when there is need of breadth of vision and courage.

NORTHERN ONTARIO CANADA

Northern Ontario, now open for settlement at fifty cents per acre, contains millions of acres of the finest agricultural land in the world. Its resources in lumber, minerals, water, power, fish, game and scenery are immense. The land calls for men to cultivate it, and in return will give health, comfort and prosperity.

What settlers say of the soil, climate, farming and forest life, is told in a most attractive booklet issued under the direction of the Honourable John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario. Full instructions in regards to acquiring a title to these rich agricultural lands are also given.

For free copies write: G. A. ELLIOTT, Director of Colonization, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario.

The Priceless Ingredient

of Every Product is the Honor and Integrity of Its Maker!

We repeat this old saying for the consideration of our customers and future customers, but we add a word pertaining to our Ice Cream. The ingredients themselves are the best that money can buy—we exercise the sense of selection to the extreme.

People who visit our plant are always impressed with our ways and means. Our Ice Cream simply "has to be good." The most popular flavor in plain Ice Cream the world over is Vanilla. Our conception of Vanilla Ice Cream has been commented on by very worthy authorities on many occasions. We believe it is an excellent product and our sales over many years certainly prove our opinion.

May we suggest that you treat the family to-night—order a brick of our Vanilla Ice Cream?

lessens the risk of Baby's Second Summer

MORE intelligent use of ice has done more than any other one thing to reduce infant mortality during the dangerous summer months.

The fateful second summer is no longer the worry to mothers that it once was. They have learned that the simple precaution of protecting Baby's food with steady and plentiful use of ice is "the ounce of prevention."

Milk must be kept ice-cold all of the time, not part of the time. That prevents bacteria from developing and making the milk unfit for Baby's use.

For a few cents a day you can keep Baby's milk constantly fresh and pure with ice. Remember also that a nickel's worth of ice will save a dollar's worth of food, for the whole family.

Officers and conveners elected: president, Mrs. Harry Clavir; first vice-president, Mrs. M. S. Till; second vice-president, Mrs. A. Samuels; third vice-president, Mrs. A. Lewis; fourth vice-president, Mrs. M. Narrol; recording secretary, Mrs. M. Johnson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. Shapiro; treasurer, Mrs. S. C. Yolles; child welfare committee, Mrs. H. Clavir and Mrs. M. Weinstock; clothes committee, Mrs. H. Palter; Weston Sanitarium Cot, Mrs. J. Ross and Mrs. H. Pritzker; affiliated organizations committee, Mesdames S. C. Yolles, J. Schwartz, J. J. Dubey, A. Shapiro, M. Johnson, A. Samuel, B. M. Speyer.

Hebrew Maternity Aid Society of over three hundred women, now in its twentieth year, during the past year, with the financial assistance of the Federation, and under the leadership of Mrs. H. Clavir, Mrs. M. S. Till, Mrs. M. Johnson and the other officers and conveners, looked after forty-five maternity cases, supplied mothers and infants with 7,315 quarts of milk, and gave each mother a complete layette. During the year eight or nine infants were boarded out, for varying periods. Over $1,427 was spent in boarding out infants. Fifteen pair of eye-glasses were supplied to school children. For maternity and infant welfare work during 1926 the Hebrew Maternity Aid Society spent over $3,000, of which half went for babies' board, $870 for milk, $35 for sewing material, $175 for provisions, $60 for eye-glasses. The Mothers' and Babes' Rest Home at Bronte, under the convenership of Mrs. I. H. Siegel, last summer, from June 27 to the middle of September, provided 215 mothers and small children with two weeks' outing, at a total cost of approximately $3,800. Five different groups were taken out. New beds with springs and bedding were purchased. The rented quarters hardly sufficed to accommodate all the mothers that wanted to go out.

The Society wants to buy a suitable mothers' camp, built sufficiently large to accommodate the dozens of mothers and scores of children that have to be left behind every year. The Massey Hall concert of last April netted just barely enough to maintain the Rest Home this summer on the scale of last year.

MAIL BOX

Editor,
CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW:

Some time ago the writer prepared a will for Casper Sugarman, retired merchant, formerly of Toronto, and now residing with his daughter, Mrs. Joseph King, of Whitby, Ontario.

Mr. Sugarman, being interested in the Toronto community, desired to make bequests to the majority of charitable institutions, and a will was drawn, showing these bequests, and appointing Charles Draimin and Abraham Cohen executors and trustees of the will.

To-day Mr. Sugarman, Charles Draimin and the writer met, and Mr. Sugarman stated that inasmuch as he knew that the institutions to which he was leaving legacies were in need of immediate funds, he did not feel that it was proper to wait until he departed this life before making contributions to them, and he would rather distribute the funds now during his lifetime.

As a result, Mr. Sugarman signed cheques, which have been forward to the institutions as follows: Jewish Boys' Camp, $100; Jewish Children's Home, $250; Keren Hayesod Fund, $250; Hospital for Sick Children, $250; Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, $250; Jewish Old Folks' Home, $250; D'Arcy Street Talmud Torah, $100; Toronto Hebrew Free School, $250; Mt. Sinai Hospital, $250.

It might be advisable to bring this incident to the attention of the public, so that others may be encouraged to make contributions before death.

Yours very truly,
COHEN & COHEN,
Per ABRAHAM COHEN.

EDITOR, CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW:

In an editorial comment of the June 8 issue of the Mail and Empire, appeared the following: "French officials whose duty it seems to be to kiss American aviators will soon be demanding a voice in the selection of the flyers who end the ocean flights." We would say that [illegible] missing Mr. Levine [illegible].

It is surely hard to imagine a more cowardly attack on the Judaistic origin of Levine, veiled as it is under the guise of humour, and, by taking it as a humorous comment, I am giving it the benefit of the doubt. Whilst the innuendo is ambiguous, it is obviously meant to be, to say the least, uncomplimentary.

I have notice that none of the Toronto newspapers have seen fit to state that Levine is a Jew, and I have no particular fault to find with this, but when a newspaper comments, as above, in connection with a person meritoriously receiving the plaudits of the world, then I as a member of his race (and even if I were not of his race, he, personally not being able to do so) would feel called upon to resent in no uncertain terms the remarks referred to, meant no doubt, to pander to the bigoted and intolerant.

Respectfully yours,
ALEX. M. GUROFSKY.

LOEW'S

"Captain Salvation" opens at Loew's Theatre next week. The play, adapted from the novel by Frederick William Wallace, was given a magnificent production at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, and on an old-time clipper ship on the high seas, where much of the action was taken on an actual boat such as the "hell ship" of the story.

SHEA'S

Five acts of Keith-Albee supervaudeville will be the feature attraction at Shea's Hippodrome next week. The picture presentation will be Jetta Goudal in "White Gold." Here is a story that sweeps with irresistible power from the picturesque dance halls of Mexico to the barren desert country of the great American southwest, involving a beautiful dancing girl, a young sheep-rainer, a revengeful father and "the other man." It affords exceptional Jetta Goudal, the star, a role that is radically different from any she has [illegible] essayed. She is the dominant note in a vast symphony of hatreds and human passions. Action and suspense [illegible] Seldom has any screen production exceeded "White Gold" in these respects. The climax is as unusual as it is dramatically effective. Kenneth Thompson supports Miss Goudal. The rest of the cast includes George Bancroft, Robert Perry, George Nichols, Clyde Cook and others. The programme will be under the direction of Fred Culley with Roland Todd at the great Wurlitzer.
